This is a guide to make your visit to Roe & Co Distillery more accessible. This guide will explain the building and our experiences, and advise where there are high sensory areas. We offer sensory kits that include ear plugs and sunglasses at our reception should you need them. You can wear your own ear defenders and sensory equipment, or exit Roe & Co Distillery at any point. Just ask a member of staff and they can assist you in leaving or bring you to the Powerhouse Bar to sit.

Roe & Co is a fun and exciting Whiskey Distillery in Dublin

You can take part in Cocktail and Whiskey blending classes

OUTSIDE AREA & ENTRANCE TO ROE & CO

When you arrive, you can come through the gates and walk into the main entrance of the distillery

GROUND FLOOR ENTRANCE TO ROE & CO

This is our reception area. You can show your tickets here to a staff member, and wait for your experience to start. You can also shop in our retail store.

GROUND FLOOR

You will also find toilets and the Powerhouse bar on the ground floor. You can relax in the Powerhouse bar after your experience, and have another cocktail or soft drink.

STAIRS & ELEVATORS

There is a stairs or an elevator to the first floor.
The second floor is where our experiences take place.

FLAVOURS EXPERIENCE

The Flavours Workshop takes place in this room - here you will sit with a group of people and learn how to make cocktails. This involves tasting flavours and shaking a cocktail maker!

BLENDING EXPERIENCE

If you are doing the Blending experience, you will walk across the bridge to the Blending room.

This area is quite warm and has strong smells.

BLENDING EXPERIENCE

The Blending Workshop takes place in this room - here you will sit with a group of people and learn how to blend whiskey. This involves tasting flavours and making an Old Fashioned!

POWERHOUSE BAR

After your tour, you can go downstairs and relax in the Powerhouse bar, and have another cocktail or soft drink. When you feel ready, you can leave through our front door. We hope you had a great day!

WE LOOK FORWARD TO MEETING YOU AT ROE&CO
